

2022 AREA XI OFFICER HOT TOPICS

All candidates will complete a written essay as well as a Stand and Deliver on a topic relevant to agriculture, FFA or the American education system.

The purpose of these rounds is focused on student's ability to convey knowledge and understanding through the context of writing and public speaking. Each year a theme will be identified (Agriculture, FFA or American education). The theme and a list of potential topics will be published for all candidates. Candidates are encouraged to understand each topic very well.

However, the essay will also require candidates to demonstrate an understanding of how that particular topic relates to the other themes. For example if agriculture is the theme during the current year then the essay question will require students to demonstrate understanding of the topic as well as the relationship that topic shares with FFA and/or the American education system.

Topics for the writing exercise and Stand and Deliver will fall within the following area of knowledge for 2022:

2022 – FFA Current Events and Issues

2022 HOT TOPICS AREA XI ELECTIONS

ADVOCACY STAND & DELIVERY/WRITING EXERCISE

The following is a listing of three "hot topics" within the theme of FFA Current Events and Issues to guide your preparation for this round in the 2022 selection process.

- Member Engagement
- Advocating for FFA
- Supervised Agriculture Experience (SAE)

For more information regarding these interview rounds please reference the Area XI Officer Selection Process Manual.